Theme

The people who really trust "Lady Luck" are the gamblers. When she smiles on them they will risk a bundle on one little roll of the dice. Maybe there is a little of the gambler in our blood. When this year presented us with a pair of sevens, we decided to roll with those double-sevens, and make it the theme for our yearbook!

We tried to link up double-seven with the only double letter in the alphabet--"W". We did this on the bet that this year would bring a double-something-or-other. In case it didn't, we decided to hedge our bet by making this yearbook double the standard size! Well, not quite! But it is the biggest yearbook ever, and it is over twice the size of the smallest yearbook in Saint Mary's history. It turned out we didn't have to worry. We had a big double handed us this year! For the first time in history we took the Skyline Division Championship in two major sports--football and basketball. Now tell us seven isn't a lucky number! Besides, we were graced with five sets of twins this year, to help us with the division pages, based on the five "W" questions; Where, What, When, Who and Why.

Anyway, '77 at Saint Mary's was a year for you to remember. And here to double your memory, double your fun, is the 1977 EL CABALLERO.

On Campus

Welcome to St. Mary's! I am the 1977 El Caballero yearbook and will give you a brief tour of St. Mary's High School.

First, if you look to your left, you will see Freshmen huddling around their lockers and guarding them as if they are priceless. Now, if you look to your right, you will see a historical figure; Mr. Hermann, holding up the ramada. Quickly now, take another turn left, you will be able to see seniors eating on the grass in their natural habitate, and forming packs. Once more, to the right. You'll see . . . R-I-N-G! . . . students swarmming out of the ramada, cutting through brushes, and racing to class. This year they have five minutes between classes instead of the usual four. If they can't make it in five, they get detention. And speaking of that, I won't detain you any longer. This is the end of the tour. Thank you.

On The Field
Varsity Football

At the beginning of the '76 season it didn't look too promising for the mighty Knights. They started off on the wrong foot by losing to Phoenix Union. But it didn't bother them much, because they bounced back with an impressive string of victories.

The storm clouds gathered for a couple of games but in the end the sun burst through and it was golden in color. We took the Skyline Division Championship to Sun Devil Stadium again for the playoffs. And again we were denied the State Championship. There were no real tears though. Almost everyone figured that we had come a lot further than any prophet would have dared to predict.

In The Gym Varsity Basketball

Wasn't it Socrates who said that a school is a log with a teacher at one end and a student at the other?

At St. Mary's, half of that log is on the wrong side of Third Street. It is called the gym. Besides the gym sports, there is a lot of education on the non-bookish kind that takes place there. There is P.E., Health, Chorus, Band and an occasional lecture. Sometimes the gym is just a fun place with skits and dances. And finally the gym is the place where school spirit gets a regular shot in the arm through our pep assemblies. No doubt about it, school wouldn't be the same without the gym-no matter what Socrates said.

1. The thrill of a hard fought victory. 2. The net result after the Skyline Championship. (Kedrick Ellison, Larry Reed). 3. The game is won . . . the net is destroyed. 4. We're rowdy . . . we're rough, we're big and mean and tough!!!! 5. Two nets are just not enough to go around.

Assemblies

As a hush settles over the crowd, Kedrick Ellison asks for our attention. He then leads the Student Body in a Hail Mary and Pledge of Allegiance. After this comparative silence, the students go wild; the band plays, the boys whistle, the girls clap, the pom and cheer jump and yell. As the climax of the assembly, the football captains ask for our support by our presence at the game. Suddenly a Bronco Pinata descends from the ceiling and before long its candy-guts are scattered all over the gym. Then Kedrick tells us to go "and take your spirit along."

1. Cotton-covered-clapping hands. 2. I just can't think of anything to write. (Belinda Mitchell) 3. Wonderful what a college education can teach a man. (Mr. La Scala) 4. Oh save me mighty knight. In Class

Have you ever tried to do your homework in Regligion class because you used Study Hall to write notes, talk, or read "Arizona Prep"? How many times did you say to yourself; "I'll do my homework as soon as I get home," and then something suddenly came up? What kind of excuses did you give the teacher? "I lost it;" "My dog chewed it up;" "The baby wet on it." Funny thing though, everytime you thought up an original excuse, the teacher said; "I've heard that many times before." You learn a lot in school, but not all of it from books.

Here And There

People roam here and there all over the world, but some are aimless and some roam with a purpose. These are the outgoing and the out reaching people, who stand up for what they believe. There are many of these youths here on Saint Mary's campus. You may not recognize them right off, for there are so many. They are the "Youth for Life, Key Club, Girls Council, Big Braves, Big Princesses," (to name a few). Some of these organizations are taken for granted, but they keep their spirit. Spirit is one of the few things that grows by sharing it. It is the spirit that makes Saint Mary's what it is today. Growing seems to be the key word; living things grow. A live Saint Mary's is bound to grow beyond the corner of Third and Polk.

1. Jimmy Carter's welcoming committee! 2. The rain may dampen the field, but not our spirit. 3. We're not hoods, just fun-loving little boys! 4. Ahhh! That hits the spot. (Lisa Whitaker) 5. Freshmen

Saint Mary's seniors had the privilege of initiating the new freshmen this year as usual. The seniors enjoyed it thoroughly, the freshmen maybe not so thoroughly. In a few months the freshmen got into the swing of what Saint Mary's is all about. They memorized their combinations and learned where their new classrooms were and soon they became the baby-members of the big family that makes up Saint Mary's.

Sophomores

The Sophomores were the biggest class in the school last year. This year they were the second biggest class since they lost a few over the summer and the freshman class came in at about two hundred strong. The Sophomores contributed a respectable number of athletes to the varsity squad both in football and basketball.

The traditional contribution of the social scene is the annual Sweetheart Dance. Their task was complicated this year by the premature announcement over the inter-com of the class sweethearts and the reluctance of the Key Club sweetheart to go through the formalities or the crowning at the dance. The dance was a success in spite or it all-and the decorations were, of course, hearts and flowers.

Juniors

The Juniors have been around for a while and they will be around for a while longer. Most people like beginnings and endings; weddings and even wakes. But what comes in between tastes kind of bland. It is neither the top nor the bottom, but somewhere in between, like baloney in a sandwich. That happens to be a lot of Juniors. But there wasn't much baloney in the Junior class this year. The Juniors pulled their weight around campus, in the gym, on the field, and in the classroom. It was good practice, pulling weight, because next year they will be Seniors and have the weight of student body leadership upon their shoulders.

Junior Double-take

Who pays attention to the Juniors? The Seniors when they put on the Prom for them, the Freshmen when they want to know what happened two years ago; and the faculty when they wonder who will lead the student body next year. But other than that, the Juniors don't get much attention. So we are going to run them by again for you. Here's a Junior double-take.

Seniors

It seems like time and circumstance always take their toll on the graduating classes at St. Mary's. A class starts out in the freshman year with a respectable number of members for a small school like ours, but by the time it reaches graduation it is a mere shadow of what it once was.

But then size isn't everything! After all, Napoleon was small, wasn't he? And Julius Ceasar? So this Senior class of 1977, small though it was, led us through a good year; with no grand plans and no great visions, but also without any large lapses and certainly no catastrophes either.

Senior Memories

"Memories", this word bubbled up in our minds from time to time, ever since our parents enrolled us here at Saint Mary's. Our memories, in a way, help determine our future. But the one thing that will always be a part of us is the Christian teaching we learned during our four years in high school. And so this section is dedicated not just to the things-that-happened, but to the things-worth-remembering by the Senior Class of '77.

The Tipton Twins--Eric and Errol

Registration

Once again there was mass confusion on Saint Mary's campus. Everybody was running around trying to get the classes he wanted. After the scramble, exhausted students joined friends to have lunch and joke about summer experiences. Then it was back home to relax, and psyche-up for that first day of school.

A right beginning is half the battle. So 1977 was fifty percent won on that first day-Registration day.

(Manual Rolon, Robert Mendoza, Rosemary Uribe)

Initiation

Knickers backwards, inside out, mismatched socks, shoes, and ridiculous hair braids were all part of the initiation dreaded by the freshmen this year and every year.

Freshmen were completely helpless and at the mercy of the Seniors. It was frightening at the time, but as the Frosh looked back it was fun—sort of! Now they are looking forward to the day when they will be seniors, and thinking up their own cute tricks to spring on unsuspecting Freshmen.

Homecoming

Did you ever try to get an elephant into a closet? Well the student council was thinking of getting the Eiffel tower into the gym, but they couldn't quite pull it off; so they had to settle for a real live fountain-with running water, no less, in the middle of the gym. That was enough to carry the theme an "Evening in Paris." The decoration was the most spectacular in recent memory, thanks to a faithful few and a come-and-go many.

Amidst the rain and confusion Liz Gama was chosen to reign as Homecoming Queen. George Whitfield was announced later at the dance as Homecoming King.

After the game couples departed to the dance in wet garments and water-filled shoes. The rain didn't stop many. Someone said it was the largest crowd he's ever seen at a school dance.

Why--
these awkward caps;
these flowing gowns?
An end to mark--and a beginning! And, Where to?
From in here to out there;
From now to then--to the furture--certain yet unsure.
What now? And how?
Who knows--God disposes.
And time alone will tell!

The Chronicle

BEING A NEW SECTION OF THE YEARBOOK FOR HISTORIANS, NOSTALGISTS, AND RECORD KEEPERS.

REGISTRATION:

The school year 1976-1977 started with about 250 students and about 45 faculty members. For the first time in the long history of St. Mary's, all of these people were photographed at registration, and received an ID card several weeks later. For the students this card was used to gain admittance to social functions. Instead of paying at the door for the post-football game dances, the students paid an activity fee at registration. The dances were mostly disco dances, with music provided by Fr. Nevin. These dances were closed dances with no guest passes issued.

Another fee paid at registration was $10.00 for the yearbook; up from $8.00. The increase was necessary because of increased production costs, lack of advertisers, and more remotely, because of inflation. The increase in price prompted the yearbook staff to put out the biggest (256 pages) yearbook ever in the long history of St. Mary's yearbooks.

THE CAMPUS:

This was the year of the short-cut on campus, encouraged by breaches cut in the hedges to allow traffic across the lawns.

The volleyball net which was installed in the courtyard last year, and used for a number of semi-organized games then, was practically unused this year. Besides, vandals destroyed it during the last few weeks of school anyway.

Local barbarians also cut down two trees in the courtyard, one of them at least 15 years in the growing. They did this, as you might guess, in the dark of the night. This fact is not recorded here to give it notoriety, but for the same reason history records the sack of Rome and the defacing of Michelangelo's Pieta—to note the meanness of spirit in some people, and to explain the pockmarks on the countenance of our campus.

On the other hand, the outside of the school and the gym were entirely repainted this year. Part of the painting was done professionally, paid for by the proceeds from the Chocolate Drive, and part was done by the Key Club on their own time. A few complaints were heard about replacing the green areas with orange, but most were not sorry to see the muddy-putty color of the gym replaced by bright off-white.

An activity bulletin board was installed in the center of the campus, near the flagpole. It was supposed to be an alternative to taping announcements and sale-signs on the school walls. Its success was questionable.

RELIGION:

This year saw the re-introduction of daily Mass on campus. Fr. Alonzo said Mass for anyone willing to come, at 7:45 A.M. in the Library. The biggest crowds were on Fridays, before football games. The rest of the time attendance was by a faithful few.

The monthly Liturgies at St. Mary's Church were more low-keyed than in recent years. Mass was simpler, with less fanfare and elaborate preparation. A new group was formed along about January to aid with the Liturgy. This Liturgy Club, under Sr. Carol Ann, undertook to provide the music and lead the singing at the student body Masses.

The diocese of Phoenix got a new Bishop this year, Bishop James Rausch. The Key Club, uniformly dressed in green and white, did a fine job of ushering at the installation of the Bishop at the Civic Plaza.

ACADEMICS:

School started at 8:15 A.M. this year and ended at 2:25 P.M., The late start was prompted in part by the fact that a fairly large number of students take some courses at Phoenix Union. The shift in starting time helped the respective schedules dove-tail better. It also worked better for those taking the bus from distant places.

We continued with the block schedule for the second year. That got us out about 12:30 P.M. on Fridays. But even on other days a small number of students were finished with classes by noon, since that gave them sufficient credits to graduate. Needless to say P.U. students and half-day students cause some administrative problems, and possibly contribute to a lessening of solidarity among the student body.

We had about eight new full-time teachers this year but there were no radical changes in the curriculum.

We did quite well in the oratorical contest sponsored by the Optimist Club. And this is all the more noteworthy, since we do not offer any formal courses in public speaking.

A covey of Seniors went back to Washington D.C. in May to study Civics at the source. Mr. Farrell organized the trip. It was called the "Close-Up" program.

The seniors took their finals and got out of school a week before anyone else. They came back from time to time for the Baccalaureate Mass, practice and Graduation.

SPORTS:

For a school with no field, St. Mary's always fields remarkable teams. The word is TEAMS, not athletes. It is cooperation and self-sacrifice that make our teams, rather than the prowess of individual athletes. It is this that puts us on top each year. But even for a school with our athletic tradition, this year was a banner year—three of them, in fact. For the first time in our history we took the Skyline AAA Divisional Championship in all three major sports; in Football; in Basketball; and in Baseball! As usual we were mostly ranked low by the pre-season pundits; but we came on strong, to finish first in our Division. We went to the play-offs in all three sports, but were eliminated before the State Championship games. Some fans grumble that it's typical of St. Mary's to make it to the play-offs, just to bomb out! It's a true but niggling remark, considering that the majority of the King Kong schools in the State never even get close enough to smell the play-offs.

Girls' sports were stepped up; but no records were set; and none were even kept.

SOCIAL LIFE:

The three big events on the social scene are the Homecoming, Sweetheart and Junior-Senior Prom Dances. Homecoming was a rainy affair, but it was no wash-out. In fact, it was very well attended and everybody looked good, in spite of the rain-drop stains on their finery. Sweetheart dance was also rather well attended. The Prom brought to the Thunderbird Country Club a recent-record number of couples—about eighty. They also set a record for the length of time spent at the Prom site. The room was still almost empty at 9:00 o'clock, and it was cleared out by about 10:45 o'clock.

It has been suggested that it is the idea of a Prom that is loved, not the Prom itself. Next year the Juniors ought to announce that they have booked the Hyatt-Regency Ballroom and signed up Earth, Wind and Fire to play. All this, with the understanding that it is just pretend. The Prom itself will be called off on the day itself. That gives everyone a chance to choose a date, get dressed up, and then go out to where they planned to go after the Prom without having to go to the Prom itself.

A new phenomenon on campus this year was the appearance of the High Noon Dances, in the courtyard and in the gym. This was due to the promotional activity of a very popular Disco Jockey in town, named Stuart Sherman. With a couple of three hundred pound theater speakers he pumped out enough sound to fill the courtyard. And it was the kind of sound that made the students want to dance. These are facts that destroyed the myth that students won't dance unless the lights are down low. What is brighter than the noonday sun? Apparently, only the sounds of Stuart Sherman!

CLUBS:

There were only two new clubs on Campus this year; the Liturgy Club, already mentioned, and the Right to Life Club. The Right to Life Club gained prominence by regularly picketing the Abortion Clinic, and also by greeting Presidential candidate Jimmy Carter at the State Capitol and the Hyatt-Regency Hotel, with appropriate anti-abortion signs.

The Student Senate was not in evidence as much as in previous years and casual observation would guess that fewer summons were issued this year than in any recent year.

THE MOOD:

Nothing is more transitory than a mood! Yet few things shape the character of a high school year more markedly than the mood of the student body. A mood is, of course, vague and therefore difficult to describe in words. But, for what it is worth, the mood this year seemed to be one of quietude. One is tempted to use the over-used word—apathy.

Discipline problems were minimal, with one notable exception—the smashing of all the windows on the freshman team bus. Boys' hair has receded naturally, but there was still some hassle to persuade some students to get a haircut. The girls apparently lost the acuity of their color vision and saw the color green in cloth that didn't have it. So, in the last month of school a piece of "true-green" cloth was displayed on the bulletin board, as a sample of the only green to be allowed in girls' uniforms next year. Daily detention was instituted for tardies, and although the between-class interval was extended to five minutes, some still shaved it as close as they could. The rule of the Seniors-only use of the front door was roundly ignored, since no one undertook to enforce it with any consistency. The conduct of the students at assemblies, especially when we had guest speakers was a source of amazement to anyone who observed it. People who regularly speak to high school audiences could not believe it—it was that good!

School spirit is usually measured in decibels, and by that measure this year was as good as any in recent history.

This school year didn't stumble, fall, crash, catapult or explode into history. It slipped into history, without too many tears and only a scattering of faint hurrahs.

THE VERDICT: THIS DOUBLE SEVEN YEAR WAS, ALL IN ALL, A GOOD YEAR FOR SAINT MARY'S.

Football

Varsity Season

The opener was a stunner. Phoenix Union, for the past few years only a shadow of its former self, thumped the Knights for a 10-8 loss. Homecoming game, in the rain, against Peoria gave us a 7-6 victory on the board, but that was the only statistic that was close. With that game we discovered our running potential, and that, coupled with a tough defense helped us through the next few games. The traditional grudge game against Brophy busted the Broncos this time 10-21, and brought the trophy back where it belongs. It was clear sailing for the Knights for a while, but they really needed sea-horses the night of the Sunnyslope game, It was heavy precipitation from the National Anthem till lights out. But we took it anyway 0-6. Thunder struck, or was it lightning, the night of the Thunderbird game. It wasn't supposed to happen, but we lost it 14-zip. Still, we made it to the Semi-final play-offs where we were stopped by South Mountain 9-0.

For a so-called no-name team, the Knights made some name for themselves this season.

It was another banner year for the glorious Knights. We finished with a 9-3 win-loss record, and the Skyline Divisional Championship.

Basketball

Varsity Season

Uncharacteristically, the Knights Basketball Team was ranked number four in the State at the start of the season. It looked like a true prophecy when, for the first time in a quarter century, they beat Phoenix Union. And it looked even more certain when they snapped the 72 game winning streak of East High by beating them 59-61. It was Prescott that gave St. Mary's the hardest time, beating us out in the Christmas tournament by one point. But that was turned around the next two times we faced Prescott.

The overall record shows this about this year's Knight Basketball team;

1) The best overall win-loss record ever.
2) Won the Skyline B League two years in a row.
3) Won the Skyline Championship.
4) Went to the State Championship Play-Off for the second year in a row.

When you add it all up, the bottom line must be that this was the best basketball team in the recent history of Saint Mary's.

Baseball

Varsity Season

The Varsity Baseball team went further than any other Knight baseball team in our history. They came from their ranking in the cellar, to take the Skyline Divisional Championship. They went on to the Play-offs to down Central 4-7. They finally fell to Catalina in the last inning losing that heartbreaker by a score 7-6.
